

Meg & Kevin

Hi

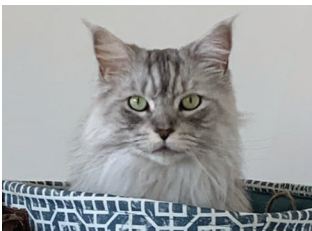

We can't imagine how you're feeling as you make this incredibly difficult, loving decision. We want to support you through this process and are happy to embrace an adoption plan of your choice. We hope you'll feel that we can provide a wonderful home for your baby — one filled with comfort, laughter, and love.

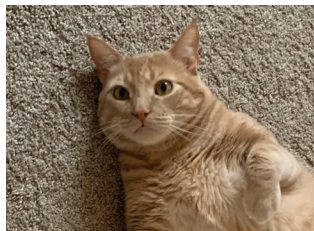

Who We Are

We're two Midwesterners who met in San Francisco. Meg liked how Kevin was easy to talk to, funny, and kind. Kevin was drawn to Meg's caring, outgoing nature. We were married in 2013 and have been singing and laughing together ever since. After pregnancy losses and being diagnosed with infertility, we're excited to grow our family through adoption — which has led us to you.

Activities

Kevin bikes local trails, and Meg walks the parks nearby. We love singing together and play guitar, ukulele and bass. To relax, we watch favorite movies and shows, like:

- Back to the Future
- Harry Potter
- Parks and Rec

Work

Meg works as a playwright and comedian who helps companies with advertising. Kevin is a software developer who runs his own successful business. While proud of our career achievements, our biggest dream is to become parents by adoption!

Family

We're 8 minutes from Meg's parents, and see them a lot. Meg's younger sisters are also growing their families; we're excited to watch our children play together. We often visit Kevin's parents and brother's family in MI – our 7 nieces and nephews are a joy!

Home

Our home is on a creek in suburban Minneapolis, where we enjoy gardening and watching wildlife from our patio. We love cooking — Meg tries new recipes while Kevin makes batches of tasty soups. Our bookshelves are full of Sci-Fi, history, rom-coms and a big stash of children's books!

Meg thinks Kevin is:

thoughtful, clever, caring, and great at telling bedtime stories to his nieces and nephews!

Kevin thinks Meg is:

funny, vibrant, LOVING — and has a knack for sparking kids' imaginations!

Thank you for considering us. We'd love to get to know you and learn about the family you dream of for your child.

With love,
Meg & Kevin
